Clicking on these would bring you to the current page but with the page updated to be the clicked-on update the primary element...

Another option is to just link them directly to the video

The
thumbnails here would link to the
YouTube
video

Update Description

Depending on how much you want to pull from the YouTube API, there can also be a field for thumbnail upload.

On form submission, latest post should be updated then the last post will be moved to the top of the "past updates" list.
